Dear fellow members,

At the August AIS meeting, AGR's voted to fund a new outreach initiative: placing conference-approved literature in the Little Free Library boxes!

There are fifty of these registered in Baltimore, plus those in surrounding counties. We are hoping to place a copy of How AI-Anon Works in each one, bearing a sticker inviting readers to get their own copy at a meeting, or from the AIS website. We also suggest inserting a meeting directory in each copy.

I would greatly appreciate your help in delivering these books. I have contacted the District Reps, offering to bring copies to the District Meetings. Please email me if you're not sure how to contact your District Rep, or would like to get copies from me directly.

To find boxes near you, check this map on Little Free Library's website. Clicking on a red droplet icon displays the address and the "charter number" of that box, along with a photo and sometimes a description. Blue dots indicate multiple boxes close together; zoom in closer to see each one.

We have a Google Sheet where you can search for the charter number. If the charter number isn't found, please add it at the bottom, along with the address. Note that some "renegade" book boxes are not registered with Little Free Library; in those cases, please just enter the address to which you have delivered a book. When you have placed a book, I ask that you record your name (first name, last initial) and the date next to that address. This will avoid double-headed deliveries. If all this seems like too much tech, just email me and I will update the online list.

Thanks in advance to all who participate in this method of "carrying the message!"
